Looking for work?

Passport to Work is a new Canadian government web site:

www.passporttowork.ca

Here you will find free and easy to use tools and resources to help you prepare for work. Balance is the key to success in life and the Passport to Work (P2W) addresses this through its three topic areas: Living, Looking and Working. The resources you find can help you in life, in your work search, and in keeping a healthy work-life balance when you are working.

If you are looking for summer work, then Spring break is a great time to start your search.
